

Shared Office Space

Join a community. Build a business.

Shared office space provides a creative solution to connect modern workers with a professional office environment. Shared office space offers flexibility, convenience and a cost-effective alternative for the corporate decision-makers.

With the need to cut costs and the millennial generation's preference for flexibility and connectivity, it is predicted that by 2020, 40% of the work force will have shared office space as their main workplace.

"Doing contracting work with the federal government is a somewhat unpredictable business. In this sector, small business owners can't really afford to make a long term commitment, particularly when leasing physical office space."

Ahmed Ali, President, TISTA

New companies (those less than 5 years old) account for all net new job growth.

Quick and easy workspace with no strings attached.

Montgomery County has shared office space in 23 locations totaling over 315,000 square feet of real estate accommodating over 2,500 professionals.

Why Montgomery County?

Talent, diversity, creative culture and flexibility.

Maryland's economic engine, Montgomery County boasts the talent and resources your company needs as it grows. Located adjacent to Washington D.C., the county is the destination for innovation and creative thinkers.

Montgomery County is the home to new and diverse companies like Discovery Communications, Honest Tea and Wedding Wire that are a driving force in our regional economy.

"My shared office is 15 minutes away from my home. I have added countless hours to my life by not having to make a long drive every day – not to mention the gasoline saved. The office is there when I need to use it, but most of my work can be handled from my home."
